Hello, is it me you're looking for?

It could be. And we'd be delighted to welcome you to the fold as at Pinnacle we're always looking to bring in new people to help us do what we do – ensuring law firms get the best out of their system investments. Today we're one of the world's leading consultancies for implementing and optimising specialist systems used in legal - generally created by our partners Thomson Reuters Elite (TRE) and Intapp – and that means huge opportunities for the right people.

Is this you?

We're great believers in building a team of all the talents so you could be doing any one of a number of things currently – see our non-exhaustive list below. If you're enjoying your role but feel like you want to go to the next level, or if you want to move from working for a law firm to consulting to them, or if you want to take your previous experience and just leap with it into something completely different, then that's fine with us.

Business support staff from law firms (or professional services)

- Finance, marketing or risk team members with an interest in technology
- Professional services finance systems
- Pricing expertise

IT developer with experience of:

- Workflow and process development – for Risk and New Business Intake
- Word ML/XML – for Billing team
- Integration – for all teams (esp Risk and NBI, Time, Info Security)

Part qualified accountants

- To work in our finance systems migrations team
- Professional services pricing consultancy

Reporting and user experience

- Presenting financial and other information

Change management

- Programme managers
- Communication specialists
- Training

Project management

- Programme managers
- Project managers
- Project support

Is this what you want?

Let's look beyond job technicalities for a moment. What do you want for your career? If some of these pique your interest, then you could equally pique ours:

- Working for world-class clients: advising, influencing and supporting some of the best legal firms in the world
- Opportunities to travel and work across UK, Europe and US
- Infinite variety with no two clients or projects ever being the same but always demanding and satisfying in equal measure
- Personal growth, satisfaction and responsibility that comes with continued expansion and peer validation
- Client facing if you want to be
- Project leadership if you want it

This is us

Why are we banging the recruitment drum so loudly? Simply because we have built our reputation and success on our people – their abilities, their commitment, their focus. They have helped us become a leading partner of both Thomson Reuters Elite and Intapp, relationships that today are helping fuel unprecedented demand for our services.

Naturally we want more people like them, we want to bring in new colleagues, augment our resources, enrich our thinking and reward everyone with a continuing flow of varied, challenging and exciting projects.

And those projects? With so many growth areas, there'll be one for you:

Intapp: Our partnership is throwing up so many different opportunities – from custom new business intake processes to off the shelf risk solutions to the brave new world of experience management and pricing. An incredible pipeline, superb variety, a great fit for business analysts and workflow developers, or anyone with an interest in optimising process and performance, or managing change.

Business Intelligence: We are at the forefront of TRE's charge with its Data Insights product, engaging with product development as well as implementing and supporting it in the field. It's intense, needs plenty of analytical rigour but a superb chance to consult at a high level.

Finance Systems: Quite simply, around 400 law firms will be changing their finance systems over the next four years. That means unprecedented demand for a whole host of roles – data migration, new application implementation, project management, change agents and trainers. If you want to be an expert in this field, there will never be a better time to take that decision – and make your move.

Do we have a future together?

When we say we're always looking for good people, we mean it - you don't have to wait until we advertise a specific opportunity.

If you've had experience of a law or accountancy firm, a management consultancy or have relevant skills from commerce, and you think you could be a good fit for one of our practice teams, then please drop an email to jobs@pinnacle-oa.com. Please outline why you are interested in the Pinnacle opportunity and try to give us a flavour of the sort of contribution you would hope to make.

If you've had no direct work experience within legal but believe you have the aptitude and attitude to excel in a consulting role and would relish the opportunity to start your career with Pinnacle, then please look at our Academy page on our website. This has been especially designed to take the best raw talent and give recruits an accelerated track into consulting with the global elite.

The last word

If you're interested but just not sure about applying – you might be worried about relevant experience, for example – we would still urge you to get in touch. Nothing ventured, nothing gained – we will acknowledge every email and you never know, this could be the start of a great relationship.
